

Thom Hart

Thom Hart works on infrastructure issues related to the economy of Iowa for the Department of Economic Development since 2007. He came to IDED after working 16 years in regional economic development in Eastern Iowa and Western Illinois for the Quad City Development Group and MidAmerican Energy Company. In his time in the Quad Cities he helped with the creation of over 15,000 jobs and over two billion dollars of investment in the Quad Cities economy. Thom served on the Davenport City Council three terms, Scott County Board of Supervisors for two terms, as Mayor of Davenport three terms and the Iowa Department of Transportation Commission for seven years including two years as Chair of the Commission.